

Join us at the next Women's Giving Circle event!

The Black Girl Pushout - Mischaracterized and Mislabeled: A conversation about racism and society's entrenched expectations of Black girls.

You're invited to discuss the work of the award-winning author, filmmaker, and social justice scholar Monique W. Morris. We'll explore the alarming numbers of African American girls facing unfair and inequitable treatment in schools across the country and how Morris outlines initiatives to help them cope and heal.

Although not required, please consider reading this article prior to the event. You can also find more information about Morris in her book and podcast.

We'll also discuss Women's Giving Circle grantmaking for June!

Wednesday, March 24 on Zoom
7-8:30p.m.
