Fundraising expert Chuck Loring will lead a dynamic, fast-paced workshop covering topics critical to achieving a nonprofit board that successfully fundraises.

- Intentional Board Development: Explore BoardSource's governance committee model of year-long intentional board recruitment, orientation, education, engagement and evaluation. Great boards start with strategic recruitment of the board you deserve.
- Relationship Building, Not Asking: Now more than ever your Board must serve as ambassadors of the mission to your community. Your Board must understand the difference between transactional fundraising and relationship fundraising.
- The Grateful Dead: Why Planned Giving Rocks: Leaders in the charitable sector feel planned giving will increasingly play an essential role in resource generation. Learn how your staff and board can work together to develop a meaningful planned giving program.

It's highly recommended that staff and board members attend as a team.

Co-hosted by Connecticut Community Foundation and Northwest Connecticut Community Foundation
