Vulnerability Preparedness Planning - Can Your Organization Be More Ready?

COVID-19 showed senior service providers just how valuable it is to spend time on vulnerability preparedness. Even organizations with a plan may now wish to expand it to better collaborate with other groups, prepare for different types of emergencies, or incorporate lessons learned from COVID. Time will be spent sharing specific models that work in senior services organizations, and brainstorming ways to be better prepared for the next disaster.

Join us to:

- Learn about sample vulnerability preparedness plans from senior services organizations to help you create or revise your organization’s plan
- Generate ideas to improve your organization’s readiness to face a range of potential disasters
- Identify personal-level emergency preparedness planning tools and resources to share with the older adults you serve